

For Immediate Release: May 7, 2007

75 years of the coronation of Queen Annapolisa

(Wolfville, NS) – The 75th Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Queen will be crowned at Acadia’s University hall on June 1, 2007 at 7:30 p.m. As the festival celebrates 75 years, the coronation ceremony will welcome former queens from over the years, and will be the event for the first performance of Rachael MacLean’s “The Apple Blossom Festival – A time to celebrate;” a song written specially for this year’s diamond anniversary.

Red serge-suited RCMP honour guards will escort all princesses, as a tribute to the RCMP’s 75 years of policing in Nova Scotia. The crowning of Queen Annapolisa 75th will be by Ian E. Atkins, Assistant Commissioner, Commanding Officer, RCMP – NS.

Tickets for the evening are $10.00/ person, 12 and under $5.00. Tickets are available on sale at the Acadia box office by calling 542-5500 or 1-800-542-8425.

-30-

For more information please contact
Sheila Dick,
Director of Public Affairs
P: (902) 678-8322
E: abfsponsorship@appleblossom.com
W: www.appleblossom.com